

Writing Prompts

Fantasy:

- 1) You see a necklace in an antique store. You aren't sure why, but you feel compelled to buy it, like it is calling out to you.
- 2) The kingdom is in disarray as the secret of an heir other than the prince erupts across the land. You learn quickly that that heir is you.

Western:

- 1) You lived a relatively peaceful life working at the local saloon. This all changed when the roughest and toughest criminal strolled into town looking for YOU.
- 2) You are the best bounty hunter in the west. You see a wanted poster with a $10 000 bounty posted. When you get closer you discover that its your brothers face on the poster.

Horror:

- 1) A scientist clones his family that died in an airplane crash — but soon learns the repercussions of playing God.
- 2) They didn't believe in ghosts... but the Ouija board was spelling out a name and none of their hands were touching it.

Mystery:

- 1) Three people close to the murder victim have confessed. Each of them swears they acted alone.
- 2) A detective is hired for a high price to find a thief who stole something that doesn't appear to have any real value.

Romance:

- 1) A lie brings two people together, but what happens when one or both of them discover the truth?
- 2) By a strange twist of fate, the two mortal enemies are trapped in an abandoned house together. They must work together to escape!

Sci-Fi:

- 1) A planet with alien life has been discovered. You are part of the team that is sent to learn more about this planet and its inhabitants.
- 2) It is the year 2254 and interplanetary travel is as common as travelling to Disneyland.