Azad	Long Shot	9780802129079	38.95		In 2002, at the age of nineteen, Azad, a young Iranian-Kurdish man, refused to go to war against his fellow Kurds. Azad deserted and smuggled himself to the United Kingdom, where he was granted asylum, became a citizen. But more than a decade later, he returned to the Middle East and after twenty-four days of intensive training as a sniper, Azad became one of seventeen volunteer marksmen. This is a gripping narrative by an Iran-born Kurdish journalist who joined the ranks of the Kurdish army as a sniper in the fight against ISIS.
Dan Bilefsky	The Last Job: "The Bad Grandpas" and the Hatton Garden Heist	9780393609516	35.95		Over Easter weekend 2015, four roguish thieves in their sixties and seventies came out of retirement. They planned one last career-topping heist that they hoped would land them in the history books. Veteran crime reporter and former London correspondent Dan Bilefsky offers a gripping account of the villains as they plot, execute, and attempt to evade capture in a nail-biting game of cat-and-mouse.
Edward Bullmore	The Inflamed Mind: A Radical New Approach to Depression	9781250318145	36.50		In this game-changing book, University of Cambridge professor of psychiatry Edward Bullmore reveals the breakthrough new science on the link between depression and inflammation of the body and brain. This book goes far beyond the clinic and the lab, representing a whole new way of looking at how mind, brain, and body all work together in a sometimes misguided effort to help us survive in a hostile world. It offers insights into how we could start getting to grips with depression and other mental disorders much more effectively in the future. Print run 50,000.
Mary Cregan	The Scar: A Personal History of Depression and Recovery	9781324001720	35.95		At the age of twenty-seven, Mary Cregan loses to her first-born child, a daughter she names Anna - plunging Cregan into suicidal despair. Decades later, sustained by her work, a second marriage, and a son, Cregan weaves together literature and research with details from her long-buried medical records, she writes of her own ordeal. Perceptive, intimate, and elegantly written, Cregan vividly depicts the pain and ongoing stigma of clinical depression while offering insight into its management and hope for those still struggling.

Drawing on hundreds of hours of interviews conducted over the course of more than ten years, as well as letters, unpublished memoirs, and documents from recently declassified archives, Adam Higginbotham has written a harrowing and compelling account of how Chernobyl came to be, what went wrong, and what the disaster's legacy means today. Print run 75,000.
Charles Lane	Freedom's Detective: The Secret Service, the Ku Klux Klan and the Man Who Masterminded America's First War on Terror	9781335006851	33.50		In the years following the Civil War, a new battle began. Newly-freed African American men had gained their voting rights and would soon have a chance to transform Southern politics. Former Confederates and other white supremacists, realizing the threat to their status, mobilized to stop them. Thus, the KKK was born. Washington power-brokers looked for help in breaking the growing movement. They found it in Hiram C. Whitley. He became head of the Secret Service. This book reveals the story of this complex hero and his central role in this long-lost chapter of American history.

Nathan Englander	Kaddish.com: A Novel	9781524732752	33.95	Adult Fiction - General Fiction	Larry is an atheist in a family of orthodox Memphis Jews. When his father dies, it is his responsibility as the surviving son to recite the Kaddish, the Jewish prayer for the dead, every day for eleven months. To the horror and dismay of his mother and sisters, Larry refuses. To appease them, he hatches an ingenious if cynical plan, hiring a stranger through a website called kaddish.com to recite the daily prayer and shepherd his father's soul safely to rest. A satire that touches, lightly and with unforgettable humour, on the conflict between religious and secular worlds, and the hypocrisies that run through both.

Meghan Cox Gurdon	The Enchanted Hour: The Miraculous Power of Reading Aloud in the Age of Distraction	9780062562814	33.50	Child rearing & home care of persons	A Wall Street Journal writer's conversation-changing look at how reading aloud makes adults and children smarter, happier, healthier, more successful and more closely attached, even as technology pulls in the other direction. Grounded in the latest neuroscience and behavioural research, and drawing widely from literature, Meghan Cox Gurdon explains that reading aloud engages the mind in complex narratives; for children, it's an irreplaceable gift that builds vocabulary, fosters imagination, and kindles a lifelong appreciation of language, stories and pictures. Print run 25,000.

Emily Oster	Cribsheet: A Data-Driven Guide to Better, More Relaxed Parenting, from Birth to Preschool	9780525559252	37.00	Child rearing & home care of persons	Armed with the data, Emily Oster tackles decision making in the early years of parenting. She debunks myths around breastfeeding , sleep training, potty training, language acquisition, and many other topics. She also shows parents how to think through freighted questions like if and how to go back to work, how to think about toddler discipline, and how to have a relationship and parent at the same time.
Barbara Brown Taylor	Holy Envy: Finding God in the Faith of Others	9780062406569	31.99	Christian orders & local church	Troubled and inspired by what she learns, Barbara Brown Taylor returns to her own tradition for guidance, finding new meaning in old teachings that have too often been used to exclude religious strangers instead of embracing the divine challenges they present. Taylor weaves together stories from the classroom with reflections on how her own spiritual journey has been complicated and renewed by connecting with people of other traditions - even those whose truths are quite different from hers. Print run 65,000.

Martin Hägglund	This Life: Secular Faith and Spiritual Freedom	9781101870402	38.95	Comparative religion & other religions	Philosopher Martin Hägglund challenges our received notions of faith and freedom. The faith we need to cultivate, he argues, is not a religious faith in eternity but a secular faith devoted to our finite life together. He shows in turn that all spiritual questions of freedom are inseparable from economic and material conditions. What ultimately matters is how we treat one another in this life and what we do with our time together.
Christopher Hitchens	The Four Horsemen: The Conversation That Sparked an Atheist Revolution	9780525511953	27.00	Concepts of God	In 2007, Christopher Hitchens, Richard Dawkins, Sam Harris, and Daniel Dennett filmed a landmark discussion about modern atheism. The video went viral. Now in print for the first time, the transcript of their conversation is illuminated by new essays from three of the original participants and an introduction by Stephen Fry.
David Brooks	The Second Mountain	9780812993264	37.00	Conduct of life	Most of us, over the course of our lives, will make four big commitments: to a spouse and family, to a vocation, to a philosophy or faith, and to a community. Our personal fulfillment depends on how well we choose and execute these commitments. David Brooks looks at people - from Dostoyevsky to Holocaust survivor Etty Hillesum to African educational entrepreneur Fred Swaniker - who have lived joyous, committed lives, and who have embraced the necessity of dependence.

Meredith May	The Honey Bus: A Memoir of Loss, Courage and a Girl Saved by Bees	9780778307785	31.00	Conduct of life	Meredith May recalls the first time a honeybee crawled on her arm. In that moment, May discovered that everything she needed to know about life and family was right before her eyes, in the secret world of bees. The bees became a guiding force in May's life, teaching her about family and community, loyalty and survival and the unequivocal relationship between a mother and her child. Part memoir, part beekeeping odyssey, this is an unforgettable story about finding home in the most unusual of places, and how a tiny, little-understood insect could save a life. Print run 175,000.

Kate Northrup	Do Less: The Unexpected Strategy for Women to Get More of What They Want in Work and Life	9781401954987	33.99	Conduct of life	This is for working women and mothers who are ready to release the culturally inherited belief that their worth is equal to their productivity, and instead create a personal and professional life that's based on presence, meaning, and joy. A practical and spiritual guide that offers readers a series of 14 experiments to try to see what would happen if she did less in one specific way. So, rather than approaching doing less as an entire life overhaul, this book gives the reader bite-sized steps to try incorporating over 2 weeks.
Mary Laura Philpott	I Miss You When I Blink: Essays	9781982102807	34.00	Conduct of life	Once Mary Laura Philpott completed her life's to-do list, she found that instead of feeling content and successful, she felt anxious. Lost. Stuck in a daily grind. She'd done everything "right." In this memoir-in-essays full of spot-on observations about home, work, and creative life, you'll learn what Philpott has figured out along the way: that multiple things can be true of us at once - and that sometimes doing things wrong is the way to do life right. Print run 50,000.
Marianne Power	Help Me: My Perfectly Disastrous Journey through the World of Self-Help	9781443456661	24.99	Conduct of life	Marianne Power was a self-help junkie. Yet one day she woke up to find that the life she dreamed of and the life she was living were not miles but continents apart. For a year she vowed to test a book a month, following its advice to the letter, taking the surest road she knew to a perfect Marianne. As her year-long plan turned into a demented roller coaster where everything she knew was turned upside down, she found herself confronted with a different question: self-help can change your life, but is it for the better? Print run 12,000.

Katy Butler	The Art of Dying Well: A Practical Guide to a Good End of Life	9781501135316	35.00	Diseases	Award-winning journalist Katy Butler argues that we have lost touch with the "art of dying," yet we still hunger for rites of passage, and a sense of the sacred, especially in the important life transitions of aging and dying. Butler argues that it's not about living as long as possible, it's about living as well as possible. Not only does our current system poorly serve our medical needs, it also crowds out any sense of the sacred. It's time to restore a sense of honour, and through exploring the stages of later life, illuminate a path to a better end of life. Print run 75,000.

Chris Arnade	Dignity: Seeking Respect in Back Row America	9780525534730	40.00	Elder Care	Chris Arnade documents poverty and addiction in the Bronx, spending years interviewing, photographing, and becoming close friends with homeless addicts, and hanging out in drug dens and McDonald's. Then he started driving across America to see how the rest of the country compared. Arnade shines light on North America's poor, drug-addicted, and forgotten - both urban and rural - and indicts the elitists who've left them behind.

Nick Barratt	The Restless Kings: Henry II, His Sons and the Wars for the Plantagenet Crown	9780571329106	49.50	England & Wales	Nick Barratt presents the tumultuous struggle for supremacy between the first Plantagenet king, Henry II, and his four sons - a drama that tore apart the most powerful family in Western Europe and shaped the future of two nations. We also learn about some of the most powerful women of the medieval period, formidable and canny politicians in their own right who outlived their spouses and children.
Kate Hubbard	Devices and Desires: Bess of Hardwick and the Building of Elizabethan England	9780062302991	36.99	England & Wales	A brilliantly illumination of the little-known Bess of Hardwick - next to Queen Elizabeth I, the richest and most powerful woman in sixteenth-century England. Aided by a quartet of judicious marriages and a shrewd head for business, Bess of Hardwick rose from humble beginnings to become one of the most respected and feared Countesses in Elizabethan England - an entrepreneur who built a family fortune, created glorious houses, and was deeply involved in matters of the court, including the custody of Mary Queen of Scots. Print run 25,000.
Lucy Worsley	Queen Victoria: Twenty-Four Days That Changed Her Life: Daughter, Wife, Mother, and Widow	9781250201423	42.50	England & Wales	Going beyond an exploration of the Queen merely as a monarch, Lucy Worsley considers Victoria as a woman leading a truly extraordinary life in a unique time period. Worsley recreates twenty-four of the most important days in Victoria's life. Each day gives a glimpse into the identity of this powerful, difficult queen as a wife and widow, mother and matriarch, and above all, a woman of her time. Print run 40,000.
Michael Klare	All Hell Breaking Loose: Climate Change, Global Chaos, and American National Security	9781627792486	39.00	Environmentalists	An eye-opening examination of climate change from the perspective of the U.S. military. Drawing on previously obscure reports and government documents, renowned security expert Michael Klare shows that the U.S. military sees the climate threat as imperiling the country on several fronts at once. While others still debate the causes of global warming, the Pentagon is intensely focused on its effects. Its response makes it clear that where it counts, the immense impact of climate change is not in doubt. Print run 40,000.

Bill McKibben	Falter: Has the Human Game Begun to Play Itself Out?	9781250178268	36.50	Environmentalists	Thirty years ago Bill McKibben offered one of the earliest warnings about climate change. But the danger is broader than that: even as climate change shrinks the space where our civilization can exist, new technologies like artificial intelligence and robotics threaten to bleach away the variety of human experience. McKibben tells the story of these converging trends and of the ideological fervor that keeps us from bringing them under control. And then, drawing on McKibben's experience, the book offers some possible ways out of the trap. Print run 75,000.

Guy Kawasaki	Wise Guy: Lessons from a Life	9780525538615	37.00	Production	Guy Kawasaki has been a fixture in the tech world since he was part of the original Apple Macintosh team in the early 1980s. His new book is unlike anything he's written before. It's not a standard memoir, but a series of true stories that have shaped his life, from his childhood in Hawaii, to his early career in the jewelry business, to working with Steve Jobs during the launch of the Macintosh, to becoming an entrepreneurial guru.

Tamara Duker Freuman	The Bloated Belly Whisperer: See Results Within a Week and Tame Digestive Distress Once and for All	9781250195234	37.99	Promotion of health	Tamara Duker Freuman guides readers through the same steps she would use in a consultation, first with a quiz to help them hone in on their specific symptoms, and then by discussing the latest research and patient stories to offer dozens of solutions that will reduce abdominal bloating in a week or less by: helping identify the specific cause of bloating, equipping readers with the right terminology and questions to take to their next doctor's visit, and laying out the tools and healthy practices to end abdominal distress and bloating once and for all. Print run 100,000.
Anthony Warner	The Truth About Fat	9781786075130	40.50	Promotion of health	Anthony Warner scrutinises the explanations of experts in every field, speaks to those who dedicate their lives to helping obese people and to others who live with their own larger bodies every day. As he lays out the best evidence available, he rails against quack theories preying on the desperate and considers whether we are blaming our own bodies for other people's ignorance and cruelty. What remains is the unvarnished truth about one of the great preoccupations of our age.
Lori Gottlieb	Maybe You Should Talk to Someone: A Therapist, HER Therapist, and Our Lives Revealed	9781328662057	40.00	Psychology	As psychotherapist Lori Gottlieb explores the inner chambers of her patients' lives she finds that the questions they are struggling with are the very ones she is now bringing to her therapist, Wendell: about desire and need, guilt and redemption, meaning and mortality, loneliness and love. This book is revolutionary in its candor, pulling back the curtain on the therapeutic process and offering the rarest of gifts: an entertaining, illuminating, and quite possibly life-changing account of our own mysterious lives and our power to transform them. Print run 75,000.

So, Meghan opened up her MacBook, used the webcam and recorded her first YouTube video. Since then, Meghan has shared the ups and downs of her life with the internet, documenting her teenage years for the whole world to see. In her first-ever memoir, the beloved actor and YouTube sensation gets personal about everything from mental health to drunken debaucheries. Print run 100,000.
DaMaris Hill	A Bound Woman Is a Dangerous Thing: The Incarceration of African American Women from Harriet Tubman to Sandra Bland	9781635572612	34.00	Racism	From Harriet Tubman to Assata Shakur, Ida B. Wells to Sandra Bland and Black Lives Matter, black women freedom fighters have braved violence, scorn, despair, and isolation in order to lodge their protests. DaMaris Hill presents bitter, unflinching history that artfully captures the personas of these captivating, bound yet unbridled African-American women. Hill honours their experiences with at times harrowing, at times hopeful responses to her heroes, illustrated with black-and-white photographs throughout. Print run 40,000.
Emma Dabiri	Don't Touch My Hair	9780241308349	42.95	Racism	Despite our more liberal world views, black hair continues to be erased, appropriated and stigmatised to the point of taboo. This book seeks to re-establish the cultural significance of African hairstyles, using them as a blueprint for decolonization. Over a series of wry, informed essays, the author takes us from pre-colonial Africa, through the Harlem Renaissance, Black Power and into today's Natural Hair Movement. This book proves that far from being only hair, black hairstyling culture can be understood as an allegory for black oppression and, ultimately, liberation.
Clint Emerson	The Right Kind of Crazy: My Life as a Navy SEAL, Covert Operative, and Boy Scout from Hell	9781501184161	35.99	Sea (Naval) forces & warfare	Retired Navy SEAL Clint Emerson presents an explosive, darkly funny, and often twisted account of being part of an elite clandestine team of covert operatives whose mission was to keep America safe by whatever means necessary. This is unlike any military memoir you've ever read because Emerson is upfront about the fact that what makes you a great soldier and sometimes hero doesn't always make you the best guy - but it does make for darn good stories. Print run 150,000.
